The last of the literary meetings was held on Monday evening, proceeds for benefit of the M. S. C. band. The programme brought out quite a fine crowd and the addition of the fine crowd, and the addition of the music furnished by the band made a pleasant evening's entertainment.—
They introduced the laughable farce, "Churning for a prize," to which the misses and masters did full credit and called Mrs. N. R. Lilly to the organ, when a quartette of gentlemen rendered their glee music with fine effect and led to the "Breeze in a Family," in which the gentleman conthe addition of the crowd, and ıly, ily," in which the gentleman con-quered and had his flannel cake desire queried and had ha hannel case a cestre satisfied. Music by the band called forth two misses of 6 who displayed good training in singing "Go tell Aunt Nancy," &c. This was followed by "Old Black Joe" in full costume, good training ...
